

V. Sarajishvili Tbilisi State Conservatoire is a public university specialized in music offering education on Bachelor's, Master's and Doctoral levels

Student centered approach

Enhancement of the Quality of studies and research through internationalization

Development of creative mindset

Quick facts

Number of students: 475

Number of international students: 13

Academic staff: 97

Partners: 14 European institutions under Erasmus+ ICM;

Study languages: Georgian, English

Website: www.tsc.edu.ge

Focus areas

Bringing together the rich centuries-old traditions in the field of musical education and the recent developments of the global artistic and academic world; Georgian music education tradition as well as traditional music have not only been preserved at the Tbilisi State Conservatoire but continues development has been made to meet the academic and modern standards of the current time.

Study programs

Main study directions: performing arts (with the following specialties: piano, string instruments, wind and percussion instrument, choir conducting, vocal, jazz); Musicology (music theory, music history, church music, folk music, Ethnomusicology), Composition (including Music Technology), Music Management and Music Journalism

Tertiary education: Bachelor, Master and Doctorate programs.

International cooperation

Member of international network AEC – The Association Européenne des Conservatoires; an active participant in Erasmus + International Credit Mobility Program (ICM) as well as other programs financed by the Nordic funds viz: Linnaeus – Palme (SIDA, Sweden), EURASIA (SIU, Norway).

Contact person: Nana Sharikadze, the head of International Relations Department; inter@conservatoire.edu.ge